

No time to constantly watch the news to determine how best to prepare for major events in your area which could affect you and your family? Concerned about the increase in major weather and political events in recent memory?

www.nearthreat.com

Near Threat is an online service designed to provide consolidated, real-time information on the status of various types of threats and assist you in preparing for any impact these may have. This service is intended for people looking to practically prepare for legitimate risks affecting themselves and their families.

If you are a serious prepper or just someone looking to understand how to be in a state of basic readiness for a variety of situations, Near Threat addresses all levels of concern. No need to sift through the mainstream media to determine whether the news affects you. Find out what you need to know, now.

Be in the know.

Be prepared.

Be in control.

The Near Threat Subscription

In depth look at threats in your immediate area, city or town – zoom right in on your home

Mobile app with customized alerts and early warning system for immediate threats affecting you or your family

Customize your experience for visibility to specific types of events that are important to you

Personalized dashboard providing an overview of alert levels in the regions you define

Live newsfeed tailored specifically to stories relevant to you

Comprehensive maps showing locations of threats as they relate to you and their severity level

Visit www.nearthreat.com to subscribe today.